News from the Silver Bug:

Washington D.C. Silver Institute Press Release

01 12, 2021

Silver Consumption in the Global Automotive Sector to Approach 90 million ounces by 2025.

To provide a better understanding of silver's important function in the automotive sector, the Silver Institute, as part of its series of Market Trend Reports, today released "Silver's Growing Role in the Automotive Industry", produced on its behalf by Metals Focus, a leading independent precious metals consultancy. The report examines trends in automotive production, including the evolution of hybrid and battery electric vehicles.

Average vehicle silver demands, which are currently estimated at 15-28 grams per internal combustion engine (ICE) light vehicle, have been rising over the past few decades. In hybrid vehicles, silver use is higher at 18-34 grams per light vehicle, while battery electric vehicles (BEVs) are believed to consume in the range of 25-50 grams of silver per vehicle. The move to autonomous driving vehicles should lead to a dramatic escalation of vehicle complexity, requiring even more silver consumption.

In closing: the report makes it quite clear that each stage of the transition, from ICE, to hybrid vehicles, to BEVs and eventually to autonomous driving, will be a net positive for silver demand.

Enjoy your "hobby" during these very trying times, stay safe, and hope to see you all in the very near future at Calvin

Cheers

Keith
