News from the Silver Bug:

Silver News - April 2021

Greetings fellow Silver Bugs & Numismatists of all ages.

Today we will be focusing our attention on one of the most popular silver bullion coins in the world, the American Silver Eagle.

Did you know that the US has only one official investment-grade silver coin? The US Mint introduced American Silver Eagle bullion coins, minted with .999 fine silver, in 1986. Today they are the most popular silver bullion coin in the world by volume of sales. On average 40 million S.E.'s are purchased each year by investors around the globe. The silver content of each coin is one troy ounce with a purity of 99.9%. The weight and purity are guaranteed by the US government.

Silver American Eagles come in bullion and proof forms. Bullion strike coins are produced in much larger quantities and are more suitable for investment purposes, while the proof coins are coveted by "Collectors". What is the difference? Bullion American Eagle coins do not come with mint marks, they are struck once in the minting press and do not carry the mirror finish of the proof variety. Investors prefer them because of the considerably lower purchase price.

Proof American Eagle coins produced in limited quantities are much more valuable because they must be struck twice (or more) and require specially made and polished dies. They carry a mint mark designating where the coins were made. The mirror finish and visibility of fine detail make them very easy to identify. There are three different mint marks you could find on an American Silver Eagle Proof coin, depending on the year the coin was made. Each mint mark is a small letter printed on the reverse.

Mint Marks:

S, denoting that the coin was made in San Francisco in the period of 1986 - 1992.

P, for Philadelphia, where the minting took place between 1993 and 2000.

W for West Point, New York. These coins were made between 2001 and the present day.

We will have an example of each coin to show you at our next zoom meeting, the difference as you will see between the two coins is truly remarkable.

Enjoy your hobby and get your "Shot", and I'm not referring to Scotch.

Cheers

The Silver Bug
