Canadian Numismatics Research Shortlist

Friday, October 30, 2026 · Canadian dollars unless noted

This week's strongest findings include new Newfoundland research, updated variety guides, confirmed auction prices and changing Canadian silver values.

1. New book: Newfoundland Numismatics — October 2026

Six research essays examine countermarked Spanish dollars, rare Newfoundland tokens, overstrikes and historical misattributions. One chapter traces the disputed GR 5 ORD countermarks using historical records and specimen provenance.

Why read it: Original research relevant to authenticity, rare varieties and pre-Confederation coinage.

2. Canada's highest-value auction results of 2026 — published October 25

Coins and Canada's new review reports these notable realized prices:

Coin	Grade	Reported price
1921 50-cent	ICCS AU-50, cleaned	$143,400
1889 10-cent	PCGS MS-63	$32,850
1908-C gold sovereign	PCGS SP-66	$32,600

Why read it: The comparison shows how extreme rarity, provenance, certification and surface condition influence prices.

3. Newfoundland 1880 cent varieties — updated October 29

The new price-guide update illustrates a significant distinction:

Variety	VF-20 guide value
1880 Oval 0	$585
1880 Round 0, Even 0	$16.10
1880 Round 0, Low 0	$68.60

Why read it: A practical identification exercise using the shape and position of the final zero. These are guide estimates, not new auction sales. Barry Borsellino's photographic research provides additional die-variety comparisons.

4. 1965 Large Beads nickel — updated October 28

The refreshed Canadian five-cent guide lists approximately $490 in VF-20 for the 1965 Large Beads variety, compared with just $0.10 for the ordinary Small Beads example in the same grade.

Why read it: One of the more interesting Queen Elizabeth II nickel varieties for learning obverse diagnostics and understanding variety premiums. Identification should be confirmed before assigning the higher value.

5. October 22 Toronto auction — confirmed prices

Alliance Coin Auctions has posted completed sale results:

Coin	Grade	Price incl. premium
1948 silver dollar	ICCS MS-62	$3,565
1973 Large Bust quarter	ICCS MS-64	$833.75
Newfoundland 1880 $2 gold	PCGS AU-55	$5,635

Why read it: These provide actual valuation evidence for coins highlighted in earlier shortlists, particularly the 1948 key-date dollar and 1973 quarter variety.

6. Canadian silver values — October 29 market analysis

Canadian Coin News reported silver near $75 CAD per troy ounce on October 29, down from approximately $80.26 on October 22.

At $75 silver, a standard Canadian 80%-silver dollar containing 0.6 troy ounce of fine silver has an approximate melt value of $45 CAD.

Why read it: Useful for reassessing common-date Canadian silver coins and separating intrinsic metal value from numismatic premiums. These are dated reference prices, not live quotes.

Worth watching next

Canadian Coin News' October 27 preview of The Canadian Numismatic Company's November 13–15 sale highlights an 1889 ten-cent PCGS MS-63 estimated at $45,000+, along with an 1892 Small 9 dime and an 1890-H half dollar. The eventual hammer prices should provide valuable comparisons with the existing 2026 auction records.

This week's reading priority: Newfoundland Numismatics for substantive original research, followed by the October 29 Newfoundland cent guide for hands-on variety identification.
